Wyo. National Guard to update Wyoming residents in two weeks

CHEYENNE – The Wyoming National Guard has scheduled town meetings around Wyoming to update military personnel, community members, legislators, retirees, and families on current events within the Wyoming National Guard.

This is the second round of meetings the organization scheduled this fall. Maj. Gen. Ed Wright, Wyoming's adjutant general, and members of the command staff briefed Northern Wyoming communities on current deployments, upcoming events, and programs within the Wyoming Military Department in late September. Southern community stops are scheduled Oct 21-29 at the times and locations listed below.

During the September meetings, Wright thanked members of the Douglas community for their continued support of recruiting efforts. In Powell he ceremonially swore in the grandson of a Korean War veteran and former Wyoming Army National Guard Soldier. In Gillette he recognized Arch Coal for their continued support of National Guard and Reserve Component employees. Additional employer awards will be presented during the October events.

Most of the meetings will be held at local VFW and American Legion posts. The meetings will include dinner, refreshments or a light snack at no charge.
